Dear Mr Coatsworth

Canterbury Television Building Investigation – Provision of final reports

Following our letter to you of 7 December 2011 we now provide you with final documentation in relation to the investigation of the CTV Building collapse.

As you are a party with a particular interest in the CTV Building the Department of Building and Housing is providing you with the final versions of the investigation documents prior to public release. The public release of the documents will be on the afternoon of Thursday 9 February 2012. These documents are embargoed until that time.

In receiving and viewing these documents you will be subject to the previous confidentiality agreement that you signed with the Department in 2011.

Please find attached a CD with the following confidential documents:

- The CTV Building Collapse Report
- Appendix L – CTV Building Structural Drawings
- The Site and Materials Testing Report
- The Expert Panel Report

The Department is providing the reports for your information and notes that company names are not referred to in the report. The purpose of the investigation was to determine the physical causes behind the building's collapse and it did not examine individuals' specific roles and responsibilities.

Yours sincerely
